

FOOD SAFETY CULTURE TRAINING BUNDLE

Producing safe food starts with the people who come in direct contact with the product throughout the manufacturing process. And having complete confidence in your processes requires they must play an active role in food safety.

What if you could create a food safety culture where your whole team is engaged at the plant? This bundle includes the perfect combination of online courses to help you and your team keep food safety front of mind during every task.

THIS TRAINING WILL HELP YOU:

- Ensure your team is armed with food safety knowledge and skills to build food-safe habits.
- Divide the work at the plant based on each person's strengths.
- Understand how to align responsibility and authority.
- Harness the power of your whole team.
- Have an engaged workforce and real improvement in food safety culture.
